Freezer Fresh scheduled to open for business today!

The newly-built Freezer Fresh, pictured above, is slated to re-open 10 a.m. today, Sept. 13, with a special ribbon cutting ceremony. The original building was destroyed by the March 2 tornado. Owner Janet Franklin, also pictured above, said earlier this year that the nostalgic diner will maintain its traditional menu. "Everything will be the same as before," Franklin said. "The building will look the same, and all the food will be the same. People are so excited that Freezer Fresh is making a comeback." Employees are reportedly prepared for a large crowd of customers. "I expect we will be busy," Franklin said. For more information regarding Freezer Fresh or to place an order, call 743-4497, or visit the establishment at 598 Prestonsburg St.

Sorghum Festival activities are outlined; big crowd expected

Traditional events and new activities on tap for 42nd annual festival

By Miranda M. Cantrell

Preparations are underway for a landmark Sorghum Festival scheduled Sept. 28-30 in downtown West Liberty, as the local tornado recovery effort has piqued heightened interest in the event.

Festival Co-Chair Belinda Jordan said that people throughout the region have expressed interest in the festival, which will include traditional events as well as several new features.

"I have received approximately four times the amount of festival calls I normally do," Jordan said. "So many more crafters and vendors want to open booths, and I have heard several marching bands from surrounding counties will be participating in the parade. I believe this is an indication that we will have a huge crowd."

This year's festival theme is "EF3 Sorghum: The Year That Almost Wasn't" and the parade theme is "Memories."

Jordan noted that several new items will be added to the food booth menus, and that a folk art tent will be erected across from Rite Aid where the former Stacy home once stood.

"The tent will include art from people throughout Morgan and surrounding counties," Jordan said. "Elliott County artist Minnie Adkins will be on hand, and there will also be storytelling and folk music."

Morgan County High School and Middle School students will be currently working with the Morgan County Arts & Recreation Council to beautify the downtown for the event.

"The students will be painting murals on canvases," Jordan said. "They will hang the art over the safety fencing around several buildings, etc. It will be a pleasant decoration to keep these areas from looking so empty."

The fencing will be placed around remaining the Main Street buildings and debris as a safety precaution.

"There are some safety concerns," Jordan said. "But many of the damaged buildings have already been torn down. Most of the debris should be cleared out before the festival."

The Sons of Confederate Veterans of Morehead will return to the festival to re-enact the Battle of West Liberty at the soccer field as they conduct maneuvers throughout the weekend in addition to a special worship service on Sunday, Sept. 30.

Old Mill Park will host the customary mule-drawn sorghum mill and kids' activities including the shriners' train and inflatables in addition to face painting and family portraits.

The Sorghum Festival serves as the year's biggest fundraiser for many local civic groups and other organizations.

Sorghum Festival Committee members include Jordan and Judge Executive Tim Conley, co-chairs; Sharon Lykins, secretary; and Ashley Lykins, treasurer.

For more information regarding the Sorghum Festival, call Judge Executive Tim Conley's office at 743-3897, or visit his office in the county government building at 450 Prestonsburg St.

Additional festival details will be noted in the Courier as they become available.

An alternative crop leads to new business at White Oak farm

White Oak Pumpkin Patch to have grand opening on Saturday

John Andrew Oldfield III and wife, Ashley Rose Oldfield, represent the fourth generation to operate his family's farm at White Oak. And if his enthusiastic participation in his parents' new venture at the farm is any indication, it seems likely that the Oldfields' young son, John Andrew IV, is destined to extend his family's stewardship of the farm well into the 21st century.

In addition to the production of fine livestock and other crops that have been hallmarks of the his family's 130-year tenure of the 900-acre farm, the Oldfields have announced the opening this week of their newest undertaking—White Oak Pumpkin Patch, the result of a decision made last year to explore the possibility of an alternate crop to help replace the loss of income from tobacco production.

Last year, the Oldfields raised a half acre of pumpkins as a trial run. "After seeing how excited the community was about the pumpkins, we decided to plant five acres this year and convert the tobacco barn into a pumpkin market," said Ashley.

When the Pumpkin Patch opens this weekend, it will offer 30 varieties of Jack-O-Lanterns, gourds, mini-pumpkins, and specialty pumpkins (Cinderella, Jarradhale, Fairytale, Long Island Cheese, silver moon, Lumina, Baby Boo Sorcerer and Magic Lanterns, to name a few.)

In addition, customers can buy fodder shocks, mums, and Indian corn for autumn decorating. "Customers can also place special orders for hand-painted fall decora-

The construction of the new Wrigley Elementary School is reportedly at a stand-still after thieves stole a load of building materials.

Saturday's Kentucky Life episode to feature local tornado survivors

Kentucky Life host Dave Shuffett begins the series' 18th year of highlighting the people and places of Kentucky with a program dedicated to exploring how Eastern Kentucky is coping with the aftermath of the devastating spring 2012 storms and tornadoes.

The series airs Saturdays, premiering September 15, at 8 p.m. on KET, and Sundays, premiering September 16, at 4 p.m. on KET.

Tornadoes on Feb. 29 and March 2 of this year affected more than 35 different counties in practically every region of Kentucky. The Eastern Kentucky town of West Liberty was perhaps the hardest-hit community, having been struck by two tornadoes, the largest of which hit the hospital, the elementary school

Nickell's new book

"How Sweet It Was," a book by W. Lynn Nickell about the March 2 tornado will be available at his booth during the Sorghum Festival. Nickell's book features 200 pages of photographs of West Liberty taken by numerous photographers. It is a piece of history marking "Our Day of Infamy." A prolific writer about Morgan County and its people, Nickell has had a booth, he thinks, at every festival. "How Sweet it Was" is his twentieth book.

Local Grand Jury indicts 13 people

The Morgan Circuit Court Grand Jury recently returned 11 indictments against the following 13 individuals on a variety of charges including sexual abuse and burglary, among other offenses:

✓ Shawn Steele, 36, of West Liberty – burglary (first degree), convicted felon in possession of a handgun.

✓ James Stacy Woodard, 33, and Zachary Wathen, 25, both of West Liberty – burglary (third degree).

✓ Charles G. Cornwell, 26, of West Liberty – criminal possession of a forged instrument (second degree).

✓ Christopher Rhodes, 27, of West Liberty – operating a motor vehicle while licenses were suspended for DUI and having two prior convictions for the same offense.

✓ Matthew Bolin, 30, of West Liberty – receiving stolen property of a value greater than $500.

✓ Kayla Wireman, 23, and Larry M. Collins, 29, both of West Liberty – burglary (third degree).

✓ Larry M. Collins, 29, of West Liberty, and Derrick Havens, 26, of Cannel City – burglary (first degree).

✓ Michael Purdue, 25, of Grassy Creek – criminal possession of a forged instrument (second degree; five counts).

✓ Kevin Haney, 28, and Raymond Haney, 38, both of Cannel City – receiving stolen property of a value greater than $500.

✓ Harold Roark, 43, of Salyersville – theft of identity.

✓ Johnathan Kiser, 37, of West Liberty – sexual abuse (first degree, three counts; person less than 12 years of age).

NOTE: An indictment is not a proclamation of guilt, but merely a formal accusation that a person has committed a crime.

Vehicle runs out of gas as it is being stolen

A local entrepreneur recently left her Mize business Monday evening to return and find evidence of a crime that had apparently gone awry during its commission.

Charlotte Oldfield, of J.A. Oldfield & Son Inc., left the business around closing time at 7 p.m., and when she returned from IGA she noted that a truck belonging to the Oldfields sitting in the middle of Hwy. 460 near her store.

"The truck was just sitting there with no emergency flashers, etc. turned on," Oldfield said. "It had been abandoned. I tried to start it up, but it was out of gas."

Oldfield noted that the truck – which she described as a "dilapidated" aging flatbed Ford F-150 – was generally not filled up with gas due to its deteriorating condition.

"It's just an old truck that probably shouldn't even be driven any farther than Mize," Oldfield said.

Oldfield said that she immediately consulted a surveillance camera to determine how the truck had wound up in the road and saw a white mid-2000s model Chevrolet pickup truck pulling a 16 ft. trailer in the store's parking lot shortly before the older truck drove away.

"It appears our truck ran out of gas as someone was trying to steal it," Oldfield said. "So they just left it there. It was starting to get dark and someone could have easily driven through and hit the Oldfield noted that the keys had been left in the Oldfield truck, which employees had not previously considered a theft target.

WLFD responds to fire at tornado-damaged building

West Liberty Fire Department members responded to a fire that originated from a tornado-damaged building in downtown West Liberty on Friday, Sept. 7.

Assistant Chief Jamie Phipps said the blaze broke out in the former Williams Karate Studio located above Commercial Bank's parking lot.

"It was an accidental fire," Phipps said. "A couple of workers were tearing down the building when some of the debris caught fire."

Phipps also noted that the building was owned by the county.

No injuries were reported.

ANOTHER NEW BEGINNING.

For students and teachers throughout our community, summer has given way to a new school year. Safety should be a priority for every family as children return to classrooms, and each of us at Commercial Bank reminds you to be extra-careful as you drive around town, paying close attention to those who are not paying close attention. The new school year is yet another signal of a fresh start which helps us distance our community from the tornado that touched our lives. We are reminded, also, that through our children the future is bright and secure.

*Wishing all students, faculty, and staff
a great and safe 2012-2013 school year!*

ANOTHER NEW BEGINNING.

For students and teachers throughout our community, summer has given way to a new school year. Safety should be a priority for every family as children return to classrooms, and each of us at Commercial Bank reminds you to be extra-careful as you drive around town, paying close attention to those who are not paying close attention. The new school year is yet another signal of a fresh start which helps us distance our community from the tornado that touched our lives. We are reminded, also, that through our children the future is bright and secure.

*Wishing all students, faculty, and staff

and the downtown, destroying businesses, county offices and numerous homes in its wake.

Kentucky Life's season premiere explores how this community is dealing with loss and recovery and what residents need to know to keep safe in the future.

The program also examines how other Kentucky communities affected by the spring storms are coping, including the Northern Kentucky areas hit by a tornado that began in Henryville, Ind.

Shuffett visits the Louisville National Weather Service to find out about the region's history of tornadoes and what tornado warnings mean. In addition, he talks with General John Heltzel of Kentucky Emergency Management to find out how the state is prepared to help in any emergency.

This season of Kentucky Life will also focus on the diverse music scene across Kentucky. Episodes will feature bands and local music scenes throughout the state, as well as historical profiles of musicians like W.C. Handy and Paul Gilley.

In an upcoming episode, discover Hopkinsville's place on the "Chitlin' Circuit," a national string of clubs where black recording artists could perform during segregation. The Western Kentucky town hosted the likes of Little Richard, B.B. King, Ike and Tina Turner, and Jimi Hendrix.

Other segments this season include a profile of the bluegrass band Cumberland River, whose music has been featured on the hit television show Justified, which is set in Kentucky; a visit to The Purple Onion, a popular Central City restaurant; rides on Northern Kentucky's Pedicabs; a look at the more than 100 species of mussels found in the state; an exploration of the Springfield Opera House; and much more.

Kentucky Life is a KET production, produced by Brandon Wickey. More information about Kentucky Life, including streaming video, is available at ket.org/kentuckylife. More information about KET programming and education services, as well as how to support KET, can be found at ket.org.

The Publisher's Pen

We are saddened by the passing of Estelle Caskey, a long-time community correspondent for The Courier and friend. She cared for us, as she cared for all her many friends, and we will miss her.

A little tongue-in-cheek commentary for a change, to wit: the following letter to the editor of The Lexington Herald-Leader, from our own local historian and observer, W. Lynn Nickell. Just why Lynn chose not to send his letter to The Licking Valley Courier, we can only surmise. Did he mistakenly believe its sarcasm would be lost on our readers? Or was he merely aiming at a wider audience? Probably the latter.

Anyway, here's his letter:

Better Uses For Coal Money

In reply to the Sept. 4 column, "UK should lead Ky.'s transition from coal." The solution to your problem is very simple. Stop turning on the lights and air conditioners on campus. Open the windows, place a stack of fans in each classroom for students, put gas lights in all classrooms and build an outside basketball court so the University of Kentucky can play in the daylight.

Show the rest of the state you can get along without electricity. Now that would be a rallying point. Eastern Kentucky could hold a rally to stop all coal-related donations to the university. I wouldn't want the university to, as the writer stated, "actively lend support and credibility to the coal industry, allowing the continued association ... legitimizing the brazen exploitation of a wide swath of the state."

So people of Eastern Kentucky should send their financial support to Morehead State University or the University of Pikeville. They will appreciate it. Then, too, we should encourage our residents to not make that long drive to Lexington to shop or go to the doctor. Why not Morehead, Ashland or Pikeville?

Joe Craft and the coal industry have been good to UK, but there are places that would love to have a few million of those dollars the industry has given to the athletic programs.

Boy, what West Liberty could do with a few million to help our businesses get re-established and people to rebuild their homes and purchase belongings lost in the March 2 tornado.

Colleges Exposed

Way to go, Lynn. Though it can backfire sometimes, one should never underestimate the power of irony or satire to get at the cold, hard truth behind things. Which leads us to refer readers to the book review that appears elsewhere on this page. The book is Middle State, a satiric novel by retired college professor Michael G. Miller. In it, Miller turns a hilariously jaundiced eye on virtually every aspect of campus life at Middle State University, a pretty good teachers college that has transformed itself into a university where learning is no longer an important part of the equation. Graduates as well as administrators and faculty members of colleges like Middle State who read Miller's book will find it hard not to suppress their chuckles even while most of them are being royally skewered along with the higher education system they permeate and perpetrate. It's at once funny, over-the-top, revealing, and in the end, a sad commentary on the mores and motivations that have reduced too many of our institutions of higher learning to diploma mills.

Book review

Middle State, a revealing look at higher ed, bursts a lot of bubbles

Ever wonder why grading standards have been lowered in local schools? This biting satire provides the answer

A couple of years ago, the student grade cards ordered by a local elementary school were returned to The Licking Valley Courier's print shop to be reprinted. The reason: a printer had failed to note a type-written message that had accompanied the printing order with instructions to change the grading standards printed at the top of each card from:

A - 90 to 100 percent
B - 80 to 90 percent
C - 70 to 80 percent
D - 60 to 70 percent

to:

A - 80 to 100 percent
B - 70 to 80 percent
C - 60 to 70 percent
D - 50 to 60 percent

In other words what formerly had been a B grade is now recorded on the report card as an A, what formerly had been a C grade is now a B, what formerly had been a D is now a C, etc.

It seems (as we later learned) a national survey conducted for the U.S. Department of Education had revealed that the number of students graduating from college each year was on the decline nationwide. After much soul-searching about what to do to reverse this disturbing trend, Morehead State University, like other similar institutions of higher learning, we suppose, decided that students must be finding their course work too demanding and were either flunking out or giving up on securing a degree and dropping out—which, of course, meant a loss in tuition money and fees collected by the university. What to do? Voila! The answer, of course: Make it easier to get a degree; lower the grading standards.

The local school system decided to follow suit and switched to the lower standards adopted by MSU!

If you're wondering just how such idiocy could be foisted on students and parents—and with a straight face, for crying out loud!—Middle State, a hilariously biting satiric novel about a pretty good teachers college that decided to go big and become a university, is a "must read."

In it, author Michael G. Miller, a long-time classroom professor now retired from a school of higher learning not unlike nearby Morehead State, tells the story of Middle State University senior Chris Warren, who finds that the courses he needs to graduate are not offered and he will have to return to school for an extra year. As he and Dr. Brumley, a sympathetic instructor, try to remedy the situation, they confront the indifference and increasing hostility of the university administration, whose members, as well as most of Brumley's colleagues at Middle State, are committed largely to their careers and to rising in the university hierarchy. Or as one student has it, to kicking a from a swivel chair.

In their year-long attempt to find justice, Warren and Brumley encounter most of the follies and perversions of modern academia. College athletics, the current lunacy of literary studies, student apathy and inability, the menace of particular biological and physical science research, corporate influence in higher education, the dominance of computers — all are targets of Middle State's satire. But behind them is the larger issue: What is an education for?

Middle State exposes the gigantic con that lies behind much of higher education in America and that motivates its minions in college hierarchies across the land, many of whom you will quickly recognize if you've ever spent time on a college campus and whose bubbles Miller gleefully bursts (readers will enjoy a chuckle or two on nearly every page).

Miller skewers not only the self-aggrandizing administrators who guide many of our colleges, but the students who buy into their "system," as well as the graduates of that system, some of whom (innocently, perhaps) may believe they actually have acquired the degree of learning their diplomas imply. Along the way, Miller's eye-opener takes baleful aim at the rest of us, too, parents and public alike, for complicity in the con through our complacency.

Published by ArthurHouse, 2011, Middle State is available on Amazon.com, Apple iBooks, barnesandnoble.com, and Google. —EWK

Middle State, a revealing look at higher ed, bursts a lot of bubbles

Ever wonder why grading standards have been lowered in local schools? This biting satire provides the answer

A couple of years ago, the student grade cards ordered by a local elementary school were returned to The Licking Valley Courier's print shop to be reprinted. The reason: a printer had failed to note a type-written message that had accompanied the printing order with instructions to change the grading standards printed at the top of each card from:

- A - 90 to 100 percent
 - B - 80 to 90 percent
 - C - 70 to 80 percent
 - D - 60 to 70 percent
- to:
- A - 80 to 100 percent
 - B - 70 to 80 percent
 - C - 60 to 70 percent
 - D - 50 to 60 percent

In other words what formerly had been a B grade is now recorded on the report card as an A, what formerly had been a C grade is now a B, what formerly had been a D is now a C, etc.

It seems (as we later learned) a national survey conducted for the U.S. Department of Education had revealed that the number of students graduating from college each year was on the decline nationwide. After much soul-searching about what to do to reverse this disturbing trend, Morehead State University, like other similar institutions of higher learning, we suppose, decided that students must be finding their course work too demanding and were either flunking out or giving up on securing a degree and dropping out—which, of course, meant a loss in tuition money and fees collected by the university. What to do? Voila! The answer, of course: Make it easier to get a degree; lower the grading standards.

The local school system decided to follow suit and switched to the lower standards adopted by MSU!

If you're wondering just how such idiocy could be foisted on students and parents—and with a straight face, for crying out loud!—Middle State, a hilariously biting satiric novel about a pretty good teachers college that decided to go big and become a university, is a "must read."

In it, author Michael G. Miller, a long-time classroom professor now retired from a school of higher learning not unlike nearby Morehead State, tells the story of Middle State University senior Chris Warren, who finds that the courses he needs to graduate are not offered and he will have to return to school for an extra year. As he and Dr. Brumley, a sympathetic instructor, try to remedy the situation, they confront the indifference and increasing hostility of the university administration, whose members, as well as most of Brumley's colleagues at Middle State, are committed largely to their careers and to rising in the university hierarchy. Or as one student has it, to kicking a from a swivel chair.

the follies and perversions of modern academia. College athletics, the current lunacy of literary studies, student apathy and inability, the menace of particular biological and physical science research, corporate influence in higher education, the dominance of computers — all are targets of Middle State's satire. But behind them is the larger issue: What is an education for?

Middle State exposes the gigantic con that lies behind much of higher education in America and that motivates its minions in college hierarchies across the land, many of whom you will quickly recognize if you've ever spent time on a college campus and whose bubbles Miller gleefully bursts (readers will enjoy a chuckle or two on nearly every page).

Miller skewers not only the self-aggrandizing administrators who guide many of our colleges, but the students who buy into their "system," as well as the graduates of that system, some of whom (innocently, perhaps) may believe they actually have acquired the degree of learning their diplomas imply. Along the way, Miller's eye-opener takes baleful aim at the rest of us, too, parents and public alike, for complicity in the con through our complacency.

THANK YOU FROM THE FAMILY OF CHARLES "ALLEN" FALLEN

Allen's death on May 30th was a painful shock that still leaves us grieving and trying to go on with our lives as we care for our mother and grandmother, Clara Fallen Finch. She is currently in Fountain Circle Nursing Home, in Winchester, with a malignant tumor on her brain stem. She will be moving to a family member's home next week.

Thank you to Potter Funeral Home for the swift and professional handling of the arrangements. Their guidance and caring helped to ease the burden of planning a funeral while we were in shock. To Brother Mike Lindon, your comforting and appropriate words helped to ease our pain as we struggled to get through the funeral and interment. Thank you to Chad Lindon for your assistance in the service. Grace Baptist Church graciously provided food and a warm welcome for the family after the services, as some of us had come long distances to be there.

Thank you to the pallbearers: Vernon Stacy, Shawn Stacy, Manuel Ward, Bennie King, Edgar King and Jamie Decker. Each of you was a part of Allen's life and you stepped forward to give of yourselves for his last journey upon this earth.

Many people sent floral arrangements, pictures, candles, throws and other mementos for family members to take home. As we did not get the names of some of those people, nor have their home addresses, no personal thank you cards were sent. Please know that each thoughtful gift went home with a family member and is greatly appreciated. Thank you Tracey Barker Hatton, for the kind words in your newspaper column about good memories while growing up in Cannel City.

Thank you to each person who came out to show your support. Thank you to dear friends who took it upon themselves to make phone calls to inform as many others as possible, since everything happened so quickly. Some of our own family members were unaware because in our shock and the short time we had to plan the funeral, we did not think to call them. We apologize to anybody who was overlooked, it was not intentional.

Thank you from the depths of our hearts for anything you did, your caring thoughts, or for a prayer that you whispered to let us know that we were not alone in our grief.

Sincerely,

Allen's family:

By Sherry Bailey

September 11 — I'd like to extend my sympathy to all who have lost loved ones recently and get-well wishes to the sick.

I am so sorry to hear of the passing of Estelle Caskey. I always loved her Household Hints in her column in the LVC. She will be missed.

Happy anniversary to Chester and Beatrice Howard of Ezel, who will celebrate their 65th anniversary on September 13th. What an accomplishment! Hope you have a wonderful anniversary!

Sunday morning, Sept. 2nd, I spoke with one of my Ezel classmates, Diania Linkous Baker, of Mt. Sterling. I have been thinking of her and her mother, Daisy, for a few days and called to check on them. Diania said they are both doing fine. She invited me to visit her and have lunch sometime. I'm going to try to make time to do that.

I called Lawrence 'Hap' Conley, also on Sunday Sept. 2nd, to see if he was getting much rain from Hurricane Isaac. He said he hadn't gotten much rain. He sounded pretty chipper for a change.

Liz and Greg Phipps had Sunday dinner with Greg's mom, Wanda Phipps, and brother, Bobby and Bobby's girlfriend Tammy Davis. Liz said they had a 'feast.'

Many people sent floral arrangements, pictures, candles, throws and other mementos for family members to take home. As we did not get the names of some of those people, nor have their home addresses, no personal thank you cards were sent. Please know that each thoughtful gift went home with a family member and is greatly appreciated. Thank you Tracey Barker Hatton, for the kind words in your newspaper column about good memories while growing up in Cannel City.

Thank you to each person who came out to show your support. Thank you to dear friends who took it upon themselves to make phone calls to inform as many others as possible, since everything happened so quickly. Some of our own family members were unaware because in our shock and the short time we had to plan the funeral, we did not think to call them. We apologize to anybody who was overlooked, it was not intentional.

Thank you from the depths of our hearts for anything you did, your caring thoughts, or for a prayer that you whispered to let us know that we were not alone in our grief.

Sincerely,

September 11 — I'd like to extend my sympathy to all who have lost loved ones recently and get-well wishes to the sick.

I am so sorry to hear of the passing of Estelle Caskey. I always loved her Household Hints in her column in the LVC. She will be missed.

Happy anniversary to Chester and Beatrice Howard of Ezel, who will celebrate their 65th anniversary on September 13th. What an accomplishment! Hope you have a wonderful anniversary!

Sunday morning, Sept. 2nd, I spoke with one of my Ezel classmates, Diania Linkous Baker, of Mt. Sterling. I have been thinking of her and her mother, Daisy, for a few days and called to check on them. Diania said they are both doing fine. She invited me to visit her and have lunch sometime. I'm going to try to make time to do that.

I called Lawrence 'Hap' Conley, also on Sunday Sept. 2nd, to see if he was getting much rain from Hurricane Isaac. He said he hadn't gotten much rain. He sounded pretty chipper for a change.

Liz and Greg Phipps had Sunday dinner with Greg's mom, Wanda Phipps, and brother, Bobby and Bobby's girlfriend Tammy Davis. Liz said they had a 'feast.'

Eulogy

The following eulogy written by the daughter of Martha Estelle Davis Caskey, Louise G. Caskey, was presented at her mother's funeral on September 6, 2012.

MY MOTHER, MY BUDDY, AND MY LAST BEST EARTHLY FRIEND

Dear family and friends:

Today we are celebrating the earthly life of my mother whom I believe is now alive and well and dwelling in the presence of God. You knew Mom as Estelle, your loving sister, grandmother, friend, and neighbor. I knew her as my Mother, my buddy, my last best earthly friend. God's blessings were upon me when he made her my mother.

In 2 Corinthians 5:6, N.I.V., the apostle Paul said: "Therefore, we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at the home in the body we are absent from the Lord."

In 1 Corinthians, chapter 13, NIV, the Apostle Paul explains the "spiritual gifts". He explained the meaning of love and that love never fails when he said: "And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love."

I wholly believe that a mother's love for her child is only secondary to God's love for his children.

Mom was a class act, a wonderful lady, and a born to be mother with strong motherly instincts. As toddlers, she taught my brother and me about Jesus and read and told us Bible stories. She taught us that heaven and hell were real. Every day, before classes began, she prayed with them the Lord's prayer and recited the Pledge of Allegiance to our flag. When she was advised by the school principal that she could no longer pray with her students, Mom stated: "I'm going to pray the Lord's prayer every day with my students even if I am sent home today." She said: "I will always stand up for God." She continued to do so throughout that school year and until she retired. No doubt, her teaching influenced their lives and also the lives of their parents.

In 1 Corinthians Chapter 5, verse 5, NIV, the Apostle Paul tells us that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands.

My Mother's lifetime goal upon departure from her earthly life was to enter the kingdom of Heaven. She talked with God daily and thanked him for the provisions he made for us. By her example, I was reminded every day to give thanks to God. She continued to stress to me throughout my life that if we lived out our lives here on earth and missed heaven, then we had lived our lives in vain. Mom taught me well and her teachings have stayed with me from the time I am old enough to remember. I realize early in my life that my Mom was a one of a kind precious jewel. For many years, I have continued to thank God that he gave her to me for a Mother and times over, I told her: "Mom, I thank God every day that you are my Mother."

Mom was blessed with 95 years to do God's work here. The way she lived her life was a testimony to her faith. At age 12, Mom became a member of the West Liberty Christian Church. In September 2010, during church services, she was presented a certificate of recognition by Brother Paul Sept. 10--Sympathy is extended to the family of Carl Brown. May God bless and comfort his family. We've known him and his late wife for years, and his two children, also. I have been in church with them. They were such good and wonderful people. They will be sadly missed by all their family and friends. Sympathy is extended to all others who are bereaved, and get well wishes to the sick and shut-ins.

Barry calls to check on me often and comes and does weedeating and other chores for me, and stays overnight with me sometimes. He love his mother's cooking. Joy called to check on me. Good to hear from her again. They were fine.

Get well wishes to Gayle who suffered a stroke recently. We heard she wasn't improving very rapidly. All Christians please pray for her speedy recovery. God bless you. We love you.

I have been enjoying all my beautiful flowers and after all the rain and cooler temperatures. Now they are looking so much better, although some of my flowers like zinnias, and touch me nots. They don't look as good as fall approaches some are fading, but all, but all my impatiens and spider legs, and begonias and petunias and colies, and geraniums are lovely. Also I planted morning glories at the bottom of an apple tree. The apple tree was a wild one. It came up two or three years ago and I reset it at the end of the porch and I planted morning glories at the root of the tree and they came up and all spring and summer I watered them every day and also with Miracle Grow, and behold if they didn't start climbing and climbed to the top of that little apple tree. We had trimmed the tree and only left some limbs in the top. I guess the tree is twelve or fifteen feet tall and one day I was looking in the top of the tree, and oh to my surprise those morning glories were blooming so beautiful... pink ones, blue ones and burgundy, and I said to myself "Oh! They are blooming and are so lovely" and I stood and admired them so very much and thanked the good Lord for them and I had planted more of them at the corner of the house, and Barry was weedeating one day and didn't know they were there. I forgot to tell him they were there and he let the weedeater hit them and ruined them. I hated it so bad, but no use to worry after its already done, but he never did hit the one in the apple tree with the weedeaters. I have always loved beautiful flowers all my life, and I've always planted flowers when spring arrives. I couldn't hardly wait till spring to get out in the yard and plant flowers. I enjoy it so much and that was my hobby. I always said I wanted to see my flowers while I'm living because after you're gone you can't see them. m Like the song says "give me the roses while I live, useless are flowers that you give after the soul is gone". I often think of such beautiful flowers at all the funerals. You see so many but the ones that's gone can't see them but they are bought for love and respect.

Alpha attended the homecoming at Lick Fork church on Sunday and really enjoyed the day, food and fellowship. A large crowd attended. I also attended Saturday night service with Rev. Eugene Haney preaching. A revival had been going on since Wednesday night. Sorry I didn't get to go till Saturday night and Sunday, but glad I attended Saturday night and Sunday. I had been having vehicle trouble too, and I have been so busy canning and have been on the sick list too. But so thankful the good Lord brought me through and gave me new strength to go on. You know the old devil tries to prevent us from working for the Lord when it's time to get ready to go to church he tries to put stumbling blocks in your way. He hates to see us getting ready for church. Sometimes I'll say "I rebuke the old devil", "get behind me old satan, you can't stop me. I'm going on". Like the song says, "I'm going on, I'm going on with my Jesus just the same". I always loved that song. I always loved that song.

We always listen to Rev. Vernon Lewis every Sunday at 1 p.m. on the radio station

Flu: Be Prepared, Get Your Shot

Last year's flu season started late and ended up being one of the mildest ever, but that's no reason to be complacent this year. The Centers for Disease Control is again recommending universal vaccination—a flu shot for virtually everyone age six months and older as soon as possible after the vaccine becomes available in your area.

Flu seasons vary in severity and timing; the only thing that can be predicted is that there will be one. Between 1976 and 2006, flu-associated deaths have ranged from 3,000 to 49,000 a year.

Factors that can affect the severity include what flu strains are circulating, how well the vaccines for that year match those strains and how many individuals get the vaccine.

For most of us, the flu means a week or two of misery and significant lost time from work or school. That's bad enough, but a certain number of persons each year develop life threatening complications such as pneumonia or worsening of asthma or heart failure.

Immunization is crucial for the most vulnerable persons, including: persons with chronic medical conditions such as asthma, diabetes, heart or lung disease; pregnant women; seniors age 65 and over, and young children. Persons who live with or care for persons at risk of complications should also be sure to get a flu shot.

Those who should not get a shot include anyone who has a severe allergy to chicken eggs; has had a severe reaction to a previous flu shot; is moderately to severely ill with a fever at the time; or has a history of Guillain-Barre Syndrome.

Flu viruses are constantly changing, and the vaccine each year is developed to protect against the three viruses public health experts expect to be most prevalent:

- an A/California/7/2009 (H1N1)pdm09-like virus,
- an A/Victoria/361/2011 (H3N2)-like virus,
- a B/Wisconsin/1/2010-like virus from the B/Yamagata lineage of viruses.

Although flu season usually peaks in January and February, infections can start occurring as early as October. Since it takes about two weeks for the antibodies to develop and start providing full protection, doctors recommend getting a flu shot as soon as the vaccine becomes available.

You don't have to make an appointment with your doctor to get a flu shot, although you can if you wish. For your child, you should probably schedule a shot from your pediatrician. A child getting his first flu shot will need two doses.

Otherwise, shots are readily available in most communities—at pharmacies, supermarkets, shopping centers, schools, churches and community centers. If you don't see a notice in the paper or on the bulletin board, contact your local health department, Visiting Nurses' Association or American Lung Association. You can also use the Flu Vaccine Finder at or Google.

Any worry about catching the flu from getting a shot is unfounded; the vaccine is made from a killed or inactivated virus that has been tested and approved for use.

You have three options: 1) the regular shot for persons age six months and older; 2) a high-dose shot for individuals age 65 and over; and 3) an intradermal shot (injected into the skin rather than a muscle using a small needle) for persons age 18 to 64.

In addition, there is a nasal spray made from weakened rather than killed virus. It is a mist to be sprayed into the nose and is recommended for healthy persons age 2 to 49 but not for pregnant women or other possibly vulnerable individuals.

Unfortunately, vaccination against the flu is not 100 percent effective. Any flu illness you get, however, is likely to be less severe if you've had a shot.

Other ways to protect yourself are the same as for other upper respiratory infections such as colds. Viruses are usually spread on airborne droplets made when someone with the flu coughs, sneezes or talks. So it's important to steer clear of anyone around you who seems to be coming down with an infection. You should also practice good cough etiquette yourself and teach it to your children.

The virus can also linger on surfaces such as door-knobs and stair railings so frequent hand washing during flu season is important, particularly when someone in your household is ill. Wendy Lykins, APRN

As a viral infection, the flu will not respond to antibiotics, but antiviral medications such as Tamiflu and Relenza can lessen the effect of the illness. Much more than a bad cold, the flu may require a trip to the doctor.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family of Martha Estelle Davis Caskey, sincerely thank each and every one for your care and concern shown us in our time of need for family and friends to be near us due to our great loss. Family, friends, and neighbors, we thank you for your visits to the UK Medical Center, the phone calls, the cards, the beautiful flower arrangements, the food prepared by you friends and neighbors, for just being with us and sharing in our sorrow. We are so very grateful to each and every one. We especially thank her Brothers and Sisters in Christ everywhere, most especially of the West Liberty Christian Church; Brother Paul Casteel and Elder Jimmy Adkins for their kind and comforting words at her funeral service. We thank Elder Adkins and Sue for the beautiful songs they sang--Mon's favorites. Many special thanks to our longtime family friends, Rick and Pam Helton, John Wheeler, Mrs. Josephine O'Neal, Mrs. Bernice Marie Bolin, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hensley (Goodlettsville, TN); the Morgan County Ambulance Service; the ARH emergency room team who prepared her for flight; the air transport helicopter service; all the physicians and nurses who cared for her; Potter Funeral Home for their excellent service; All Occasion Flowers for the beautiful flowers; the men who opened and closed her grave; the pallbearers; and the honorary pallbearers. In the event we have failed to mention anyone at all, we apologize, but please know, that your kindness to our family is so very much appreciated and will never be forgotten. We are so blessed and privileged to have been surrounded by kind, caring, concerned people and we cannot thank each of you enough, but from the bottoms of our hearts. We thank you!

MY MOTHER, MY BUDDY, AND MY LAST BEST EARTHLY FRIEND

Dear family and friends:

You knew Mom as Estelle, your loving sister, grandmother, friend, and neighbor. I knew her as my Mother, my buddy, my last best earthly friend. God's blessings were upon me when he made her my mother.

that heaven and hell were real. Every day, before classes began, she prayed with them the Lord's prayer and recited the Pledge of Allegiance to our flag. When she was advised by the school principal that she could no longer pray with her students, Mom stated: "I'm going to pray the Lord's prayer every day with my students even if I am sent home today." She said: "I will always stand up for God." She continued to do so throughout that school year and until she retired. No doubt, her teaching influenced their lives and also the lives of their parents.

In 1 Corinthians Chapter 5, verse 5, NIV, the Apostle Paul tells us that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands.

My Mother's lifetime goal upon departure from her earthly life was to enter the kingdom of Heaven. She talked with God daily and thanked him for the provisions he made for us. Casteel for being the oldest living member of the West Liberty Christian Church. She was so thrilled for that recognition and framed her certificate.

Mom loved traveling. Together we went many places she had never been including Atlanta, GA; Gulf and East coasts of Florida; (the first time she had seen the Atlantic ocean and seashore); Washington, D.C.; Nashville, TN; Columbus, OH; and oh, the Grand Ole Opry. She so enjoyed her visits to the Opry-especially her first. She clapped her hands and patted her feet in keeping time with the music.

Although Mom's health was failing, she still wanted to accompany me everywhere and she did. Every morning she would ask: Are we going somewhere today? She kept my appointment schedule and accompanied me everywhere. She told others that she did everything I did. She was there for my court appearances. She told Georgia Mae Stamper that her job was to carry my briefcase and she did. The legal people with whom I was associated would always look for her too and if they didn't see her right of way, they would ask: "Where's Mom?"

Mom was coherent during this last illness and although she became unable to speak, she knew I was there with her as I held her hand and talked to her about God and Heaven that was waiting for her and telling her how good I loved her. I asked her to wait and watch for me and I promised her I would meet her in heaven.

We all say "SO LONG" now to you, Mom. Rest in peace in the presence of God. We will be meeting and greeting you again soon, Honey!

Viruses are usually spread on airborne droplets made when someone with the flu coughs, sneezes or talks. So it's important to steer clear of anyone around you who seems to be coming down with an infection. You should also practice good cough etiquette yourself and teach it to your children.

The virus can also linger on surfaces such as door-knobs and stair railings so frequent hand washing during flu season is important, particularly when someone in your household is ill. Wendy Lykins, APRN

As a viral infection, the flu will not respond to antibiotics, but antiviral medications such as Tamiflu and Relenza can lessen the effect of the illness. Much more than a bad cold, the flu may require a trip to the doctor.

Senator Stivers honored by Kentucky prosecutors

Senator Robert Stivers, Majority Floor Leader, Kentucky State Senate, was honored at the State Prosecutors Conference in Lexington. Recognized as Distinguished Legislator for 2012.

Mike Foster, legislative chair for the Kentucky County Attorneys Association (KCAA), praised Senator Stivers, saying, "Citizens of the commonwealth are very fortunate to have a leader like Senator Stivers who understands the important issues that impact public safety for our communities." Mr. Foster, who is the Christian County Attorney, stated, "During these difficult budgetary times, prosecutors could count on Senator Stivers to make every effort to support better funding for our 120 counties that we represent."

Senator Robert Stivers represents Senate District 25, which includes the counties of Clay, Knox, Lee, Magoffin, Morgan, Owsley and Wolfe.

Month-long bridge pjt. starts on Mt. Pkway.

Project located near mile marker 63 at the Morgan-Magoffin line

JACKSON, Ky. — A bridge repair project began Monday, Sept. 10, on the Bert T. Combs Mountain Parkway in Wolfe County and will result in one-lane traffic and delays for motorists using this main eastern Kentucky highway artery.

Temporary signals will control traffic at the Mountain Parkway's span at the Morgan-Magoffin county line near mile marker 63. These temporary signals will be in place for approximately four weeks as work on a bridge deck overlay project proceeds.

During the work, the route will be restricted to vehicles less than 10 feet wide. Vehicles wider than 10 feet will need to find an alternate route around the project between Exit 57 and Exit 72.

Drivers should slow down as they approach this construction zone, watch for stopped traffic and obey the temporary traffic signal. Motorists are

Grand opening of Open Fork United Baptist Church, Hwy. 172, after March tornado

Thanks to a wonderful community and support from far and near, Open Fork Church has finalized plans for first service after the March tornado that badly damaged the building. The first service will be Saturday, September 22, at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, September 23, at 10:30 a.m.

Open Fork Church members would like to thank everyone for their support during this difficult rebuilding process. We could never name all the people, organizations, and churches that supported us in so many different ways. We sincerely wish to thank every individual that helped in any way. We felt the presence of your prayers and we know our community will benefit from God's church.

We pray that God will richly bless you for your work, contributions, support, and every act of kindness. Come and join us in service the fourth Saturday of each month at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

We wish to share the following thoughts with you, a poem "In His Footsteps."

ADAM H. EDELEN AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

To the People of Kentucky
Honorable Steven L. Beshear, Governor
Lori H. Flanery, Secretary
Finance and Administration Cabinet
Honorable Tim Conley, Morgan County Judge/Executive
Members of the Morgan County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the governmental activities, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of Morgan County, Kentucky, as of and for the year ended June 30, 2011, which collectively comprise the County's basic financial statements, as listed in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Morgan County Fiscal Court. Our responsibility is to express opinions on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for Fiscal Court Audits issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinions.

As described in Note 1, Morgan County, Kentucky, prepares its financial statements in accordance with the modified cash basis, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In our opinion the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the governmental activities, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of Morgan County, Kentucky, as of June 30, 2011, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows, where applicable, thereof for the year then ended in conformity with the basis of accounting described in Note 1.

The county has implemented Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement 54 as it relates to the modified cash basis of accounting as described in Note 1, which has altered the format and content of the basic financial statements.

The county has not presented the management's discussion and analysis that the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) has determined is necessary to supplement, although not required to be part of, the basic financial statements. The budgetary comparison information is not a required part of the basic financial statements but is supplementary information required by GASB. We have applied certain limited procedures, which consisted principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the budgetary comparison information. However, we did not audit it and express no opinion on it.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise Morgan County, Kentucky's basic financial statements. The accompanying supplementary information and combining fund financial statements, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. The combining fund financial statements have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated June 27, 2012 on our consideration of Morgan County, Kentucky's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Based on the results of our audit, we present the accompanying comment and recommendation included herein, which discusses the following report comment:

I GOT IT THAT WAY

Some people don't believe in deliverance from sin. "It's all an illusion", They say, "For a man to declare that he knows He got saved". But brother, I got it that way. I got it that way, Hallelujah and still I possess it today. Some people may doubt when the victory I shout, "I got it, I got it that way." They tell us to just find a church of our choice and start right into work from that day. Some others I know sign their names on a card. But brother, I didn't get it that way. They say it's unscriptural to kneel at a bench or an old-fashioned altar to pray. I have only one argument, brother, for that. I got it, I got it that way. (Submitted by Alpha Clevenger)

Caney Valley News

By Tracey B. Hatton

Sept. 10--Hello again from Caney Valley. There is a "Call to Stand." Our founding fathers took a strong stand on Biblical principles. In Richard G. Lee book, "In God We Still Trust" He states "clearly there, was a predominant Christian consensus in Colonial America that shaped the Founder's thinking and their writing of the four ding documents and laws, resulting in the republic we have today." As our founding fathers took a strong stand, Mr. Lee shares samples of their own conviction. Mr. John Hancock, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, stated, "Principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God that gave it." Patrick Henry shared these words, "It cannot be emphasized too clearly and too often that this nation was founded, not by religionists, but by Christians, not on religion, but on the gospel of Jesus Christ." John Hancock and John Adams, both declared, "We recognize no sovereign but God, and no King but Jesus!" Take a stand for what is right in your life. In Mark 3:24-25, "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand and if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand". We have to take a stand for Christ, we cannot be wishy-washy. Either we are for God or against Him; there is no straddling the fence. The church of Laodicea was charged this as found in Revelation 3:15-16, "I know thy works, that thou are neither cold or hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth." How important is it for Christians to take a stand in America? In Psalms 9:17, "The wicked shall be turned into hell and all the nations that forget God." Pray for strength, wisdom, guidance, and love. Be a soldier of the cross and Stand Up for Jesus.

Prayer requests: Boone Hatton, Glenn Crase, Lexie Adams' family, Georgia Taulbee, Joshua Dye, Bro. James Allen, Bro. Tim and Sarilda Clark, Adam Allen, Larry Allen, Everene haves, Margaret and H.A. Wallace, Stanley and Avanel Whisman, Jack Flannery, patty and Cecil Griffin, Berchlene and Woodford Henry, Dorothy Elam, Joanie and Harold Barker, Timothy Vance, Eleanor Black, Shirley Stevens, Rhonda Ison, Francis King, Mildred Mays, Wayne and Della Banks.

Happy birthdays: Kennedy Trusty, Harley West, Gwen Plank, Johnny Flannery, Jo Jarvis, Susan Reed, Raylee Whitaker, Jackson Prater, Catherine Allen, (belated) to Glinna Stamper.

We will be having our annual homecoming service at Centerville Community Church on Sunday, Sept. 16, at 11 a.m. Bro. Ron Oplinger will be bringing the message and we will be having dinner afterwards. There will be no evening services. Come and be with us.

Prayerful congratulations to Bro. Tim Clark and wife, Sarilda, on his ordination ceremony at New Hope Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. Tim surrendered to the calling of God to preach His gospel. As many friends and relatives were present during this humble and preparatory ceremony, it was a time of reflection, and a time for each Christian to realize that we need to pray for our pastors and their wives as they do the will of God. During this ordination service a charge was given to the church by Bro. Ray Fallen and a charge was given to Bro. Tim Clark by Bro. George Drake of the Red River Association. As you pray remember Bro. Tim and Sarilda as they prepare to continue to serve the Lord in a new capacity.

We celebrated the baptism of Francis King Sunday evening at Grace Baptist Church, at Malone. Francis had accepted the Lord as her saviour and wanted to be baptized as soon as she felt better. On Tuesday morning Francis slipped into eternity to be with her saviour. As we are saddened by her loss we also celebrate her homecoming because now she is in no more pain. Continue to remember her family in prayer.

May God bless and keep you on your daily journey.

I GOT IT THAT WAY

Some people don't believe in deliverance from sin. "It's all an illusion", They say, "For a man to declare that he knows He got saved". But brother, I got it that way. I got it that way, Hallelujah and still I possess it today. Some people may doubt when the victory I shout, "I got it, I got it that way." They tell us to just find a church of our choice and start right into work from that day. Some others I know sign their names on a card. But brother, I didn't get it that way. They say it's unscriptural to kneel at a bench or an old-fashioned altar to pray. I have only one argument, brother, for that. I got it, I got it that way. (Submitted by Alpha Clevenger)

Caney Valley News

By Tracey B. Hatton

Sept. 10--Hello again from Caney Valley. There is a "Call to Stand." Our founding fathers took a strong stand on Biblical principles. In Richard G. Lee book, "In God We Still Trust" He states "clearly there, was a predominant Christian consensus in Colonial America that shaped the Founder's thinking and their writing of the four ding documents and laws, resulting in the republic we have today." As our founding fathers took a strong stand, Mr. Lee shares samples of their own conviction. Mr. John Hancock, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, stated, "Principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God that gave it." Patrick Henry shared these words, "It cannot be emphasized too clearly and too often that this nation was founded, not by religionists, but by Christians, not on religion, but on the gospel of Jesus Christ." John Hancock and John Adams, both declared, "We recognize no sovereign but God, and no King but Jesus!" Take a stand for what is right in your life. In Mark 3:24-25, "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand and if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand". We have to take a stand for Christ, we cannot be wishy-washy. Either we are for God or against Him; there is no straddling the fence. The church of Laodicea was charged this as found in Revelation 3:15-16, "I know thy works, that thou are neither cold or hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth." How important is it for Christians to take a stand in America? In Psalms 9:17, "The wicked shall be turned into hell and all the nations that forget God." Pray for strength, wisdom, guidance, and love. Be a soldier of the cross and Stand Up for Jesus.

Prayer requests: Boone Hatton, Glenn Crase, Lexie Adams' family, Georgia Taulbee, Joshua Dye, Bro. James Allen, Bro. Tim and Sarilda Clark, Adam Allen, Larry Allen, Everene haves, Margaret and H.A. Wallace, Stanley and Avanel Whisman, Jack Flannery, patty and Cecil Griffin, Berchlene and Woodford Henry, Dorothy Elam, Joanie and Harold Barker, Timothy Vance, Eleanor Black, Shirley Stevens, Rhonda Ison, Francis King, Mildred Mays, Wayne and Della Banks.

Happy birthdays: Kennedy Trusty, Harley West, Gwen Plank, Johnny Flannery, Jo Jarvis, Susan Reed, Raylee Whitaker, Jackson Prater, Catherine Allen, (belated) to Glinna Stamper.

We will be having our annual homecoming service at Centerville Community Church on Sunday, Sept. 16, at 11 a.m. Bro. Ron Oplinger will be bringing the message and we will be having dinner afterwards. There will be no evening services. Come and be with us.

Prayerful congratulations to Bro. Tim Clark and wife, Sarilda, on his ordination ceremony at New Hope Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. Tim surrendered to the calling of God to preach His gospel. As many friends and relatives were present during this humble and preparatory ceremony, it was a time of reflection, and a time for each Christian to realize that we need to pray for our pastors and their wives as they do the will of God. During this ordination service a charge was given to the church by Bro. Ray Fallen and a charge was given to Bro. Tim Clark by Bro. George Drake of the Red River Association. As you pray remember Bro. Tim and Sarilda as they prepare to continue to serve the Lord in a new capacity.

We celebrated the baptism of Francis King Sunday evening at Grace Baptist Church, at Malone. Francis had accepted the Lord as her saviour and wanted to be baptized as soon as she felt better. On Tuesday morning Francis slipped into eternity to be with her saviour. As we are saddened by her loss we also celebrate her homecoming because now she is in no more pain. Continue to remember her family in prayer.

May God bless and keep you on your daily journey.

MORGAN COUNTY FOOTBALL

Early dominance continues with blowout of Pendleton

'Double Wing' offense rolls up season-high 439 rushing yards

By David Patrick

Kody Thornsberry and Jordan Whitt combined for 259 yards rushing and six touchdowns as Morgan County dropped the hammer on visiting Pendleton County, 54-12.

Despite giving up an a kick return for a touchdown on the opening play of the game, the Cougars answered in a big way with three scores in less than four minutes. Thornsberry got his team on the board with a three yard run at the 8:42 mark of the first quarter. A two-point conversion by Larrin Collins gave Morgan an 8-6 lead. Thornsberry added another TD run, this one from 10 yards out, just over a minute later for a 14-6 advantage.

Morgan's defense contributed with the next big play following a bad snap on a Wildcat punt attempt. Walker Crase chased down the kicker and made a textbook diving tackle for a 30 yard loss. Whitt then cased in the excellent field position with a five yard scoring run straight up the middle before Thornsberry added the two-point conversion on a pass from Collins. At the 5:19 mark of the first period, Morgan was staked to a 22-6 lead.

But the Cougars' special teams kick coverage got torched for a second time in the opening half allowing yet another kickoff return for a score. And just like that, the home team's 16 point cushion was cut in half.

Any hope the Wildcats had of climbing back into the game, however, was quickly dashed by Whitt and Thornsberry, who put up two scores in the next minute and a half.

Freshman Hunter Collins ran for 40 yards, including his first varsity touchdown.

Caption for picture: Kody Thornsberry led the Cougar's ground attack with 148 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Whitt's two yard touchdown run and subsequent two-point conversion by Collins made it a 30-12 Cougar lead. Thornsberry then put the game out of reach before the half with an electrifying 55 yard punt return for a score to push the lead to 24.

"When Kody gets the ball in the open field, good things are sure to happen," said Cougar head coach Brian Turner. "All he needs is a seam and he does the rest. That was a big score to get before halftime."

Late in the quarter, Whitt did his best 'Kody Thornsberry' impersonation, although not on a kick return. Whitt took a second down and nine and turned it into a 68 yard touchdown run for a 42-12 Cougar lead.

Turner then turned to his junior varsity which continued to put points on the board. Freshman wingback Hunter Collins scored his first career varsity touchdown on a 20 yard scamper. Another freshman, Jake Henry, added the final tally with a four yard touchdown run to account for the 54-12 final.

Offensively, Thornsberry and Whitt led Morgan with 148 and 111 yards, respectively. With three TD's and a pair of two-point conversions, Thornsberry's 22 points was nearly twice the output of the entire Pendleton County offense.

Crase was a big part of the Morgan ground game as well with five carries for 52 yards, while Hunter Collins and Henry chipped in a combined 77 yards.

On the defensive side, Morgan continued to dominate opponents by allowing no points, aside from the two scores given up by the special teams. Jared Short finished with a team-high 10 tackles along with a fumble recovery, with Nick Adams adding nine tackles, including eight solos. J.T. Brown and Bryce Cox tallied six tackles apiece.

"Our defense has been excellent up to this point," Turner said. "We're stopping the run and the pass, and continuing for force turnovers in key situations. Our kids are really getting after it on both sides of the ball."

The Cougar defense will be tested this Friday at South Floyd, which was won two of three games, including last week's 54-20 rout of Knott County Central. Senior running back Weston Little has literally been a one man offensive show for the Raiders, averaging well over 200 rushing yards per game. Last season, Little carried for 117 yards and two touchdowns in a 39-14 loss to Morgan County at Herdman Field.

Kickoff for the Morgan-Knott Central game is slated for 7:30.

Undefeated Cougars rank among state's best

Offense already topping 1,000 rushing yards;

Pass defense leads 3-A rankings

By David Patrick

Morgan County's impressive 3-0 start to the high school football season certainly doesn't happen by coincidence. Individually and collectively, the Cougars sit near the top of multiple offensive and defensive categories among Kentucky's 3-A schools.

Junior running back Kody Thornsberry ranks in the top three in rushing yards, averaging 149 per game. As for individual scoring, seniors Walker Crase and Jordan Whitt, along with Thornsberry, all went into last week's game ranked in the state's top 15. The trio is combining for 34 points per game, making Morgan the only team in Class 3-A with three players making the list.

As a team, Morgan County ranks among the state's top 10 in nearly every category. Coach Brian Turner's lethal 'Double-Wing' offense ranks fourth in the state in scoring, averaging 45 points per game. As for scoring margin, Morgan ranks in the top five, outscoring opponents by more than 26 a contest.

The Cougars' ground game has already eclipsed 1,000 yards through only three games. Last week, Morgan was ranked third in the state, averaging 323 yards per game, trailing only Central and Belfry. But after last week's season-best 439 rushing yards, the Cougars will almost certainly take over the state's number one spot come Friday morning.

Defensively, Turner's team is allowing just 14 points per game, which also ranks in the top five. The Cougars' pass defense tops the 3-A rankings, allowing a meager four passing yards per game. The rush defense is holding opponents to 111 per game, which ranks in the top six.

Numbers wise, it has been an impressive start to a potential record-breaking season.

Bank of the Mtns. offers free UK alumni game tickets

West Liberty, KY— University of Kentucky Coach John Calipari has partnered with Bank of the Mountains to give away 500 Kentucky alumni game tickets to victims of the March 2 tornado.

A big birthday celebration for three Jenkins brothers-Ollie, of Hillsboro, Ohio, Clyde and Cortis, both of Sand Lick, along with their sister, Bonnie Cantrell, and Clyde's daughter, Emily, was observed on Saturday, Sept. 8, at Clyde's farm on Upper Sand Lick. The event began around noon and continued until dark.

A large crowd of friends and relatives were on hand for the celebration. Beautiful birthday cakes were baked and decorated by Vickie Gilliam and Melissa Myles. Lots of covered dishes were brought in by many of those in attendance to make a delicious meal.

Bluegrass Online (Bill Trusty, Randy Maloney, Keith Prater, and Dax Lewis), and others provided an afternoon of great bluegrass music. The crowd also enjoyed singing by Cortis Jenkins later in the evening.

Ollie, Clyde, Cortis, Bonnie and Emily wish to thank the musicians for the fine music, to all who prepared food for the occasion, and anyone who had a part in making this such a special occasion. It is a day that will long be remembered.

KENTUCKY FRONTIER GAS, LLC
NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS
GAS RATE ADJUSTMENT
NON-RECURRING FEE CHANGES
TARIFF CHANGES

Pursuant to the regulations of the Public Service Commission (Commission), Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC gives notice that it intends to adopt an increase in its natural gas rates. The rates are proposed to become effective September 15, 2012, or when approved by the Commission. The rates proposed will consolidate the existing rates of Auxier Road Gas Company, BTU Gas Company, Belfry Gas Company, Cow Creek Gas Company, Cow Creek/Sigma, Dema Gas Company, East Kentucky Utilities, People's Gas, city of Blaine and Mike Little Gas Company into Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC. The affected farm tap companies are: Alert, Hueysville, KLC Enterprises, Quality Gas and Interstate Gas. Farm tap rates are not being adjusted in this case. One rate schedule and tariff will apply to all customers, who will become customers of Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC. The average monthly customer bill will change depending on the current company rate being charged. The average change in the monthly bill and the percentage change in the monthly bill are listed in the rate schedule below. Changes to current fees (non-recurring charges) are also being proposed for distribution and farm tap customers. Those changes are listed in the schedule below. A Pipeline Replacement Program (PRP) recovery fee and mechanism and an Automated Meter Reading Recovery (AMR) surcharge are proposed. A new monthly customer charge is proposed. A new Large Commercial rate and customer charge is proposed. Changes in existing tariffs to consolidate and make uniform all service regulations are also being proposed. Those tariff changes can be reviewed in the application at the addresses listed below.

Further information may be obtained from the Commission or Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC. The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC. However, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these proposed rates. Such action may result in rates for consumers other than the rates in this notice. Such action by the Commission may result in the rates being higher or lower than those proposed by Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by timely motion, within 30 days of this Notice, request intervention in this case. Intervention beyond the 30 day period may be granted for good cause shown. The Motion must be submitted to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Blvd., Box 615, Frankfort, Ky. 40602 and should state the grounds for the request, including the interest and status of the party. Intervenor may obtain copies of the Application and any testimony filed by contacting Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC at the address below. A copy of the Application is available for public review at the office of Kentucky Frontier Gas, LLC and at the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Blvd., Frankfort, Ky. 40601, (502) 564-3940.

Kellacey

By Sandra Carpenter

Sept. 10 — Thought for the week: A good attitude toward life begins with GRATITUDE toward GOD.

Sympathy to those who have lost loved ones, and get well wishes to the sick everywhere.

To the family of Estelle Caskey: I will miss her weekly news. I enjoyed it very much. Also our sympathy to the Smith, Adams, and Henry families.

The writer traveled to Mt. Sterling on Monday to visit with Tamera and Dalton Tate for a while. Good to see them.

Last Tuesday the writer accompanied Barbara Carpenter to Clay City to meet a doctor appointment. We stopped at several consignment and primitive stores. I love to go to little stores and see all the things hand made.

On Monday Jerry and Bobbie Muncie of Oklahoma traveled from Indiana where they were visiting family to Twin Knobs Campground at Cave Run in their camper to spend several days in Kentucky visiting with family here. They visited with Barbara Carpenter and Harold Goodpaster came out. They had a great time reminiscing about the good ole days growing up here on Kellacey. Jerry was my grandmother Opal Muncie Goodpaster's brother. Their parents passed away young, and they left behind small children. My grandmother Opal took Jerry in to live with them when he was about 2 years of age. So he is more a brother than an uncle to my mother and her brothers and sister's. Jerry and Bobbie also visited with his sister Ethel Turner of West Liberty, and Gearld and Nettie Goodpaster, before heading back home. They planned on stopping at Renfro Valley to see a show.

A happy birthday wish goes out to Jerry Muncie of Oklahoma on Sept 24. Hope you have a great day.

You're Invited to our ground breaking.

Sympathy to the family of Roger and Carolyn Williams of Owingsville. His mother passed away.

Carolyn Montgomery and Paula Cantrill visited with Uncle Willard and Loretta Wright in West Virginia. They went on Saturday morning and arrived back Sunday evening. While they were gone the kids stayed with Mason.

Phyllis and Ken Frische arrived on Thursday from Ohio and visited until Sunday with family. Phyllis took Mason to the doctor while here.

Carolyn Montgomery would like to say thank you to Phillip Montgomery, Tom Coder, and Jimmy Clyde Montgomery for their help when she had car trouble the other day.

Jeff Montgomery had breakfast last weekend with Mason and Carolyn Montgomery.

The weather has sure cooled down. It feels so good. I love the fall season. A time of harvest.

Sept. 3--The Lewis-Cox reunion was held Saturday, Sept. 1, at the home of Dan and Joyce LeMaster. There was a good sized crowd attending. There was a lot of good food and everyone had a good time. Other visitors of the LeMasters have been Bob Harper, Mike Lewis, and Janice Stapleton.

The Gullett reunion was held at the home of Roby Gullett on Pricey Saturday and Sunday. A large crowd attended and everyone enjoyed themselves. Dwayne Nickell, Jonathan and Charity, Randa and Shelby Nickell ate supper last week with Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nickell. Other visitors of the Nickells were Patty Ball, Jerry and Sharon Haney and grandson, Branson.

Bob and Dell Harper spent a few days in Waynesville, Ohio visiting Garrett and Margaret Williams. On Monday a gathering of friends had lunch at Marions Pizza. Those attending were Garrett and Margaret Williams, Darrell and Evelyn Williams, Eldon and Elaine Lewis, Doug and Linda Pack and Bob and Dell Harper. Everyone had a wonderful time.

Recent visitors of Leova Lewis have been Janice Stapleton, Justin Gibbs and Terry Gibbs.

Sept. 10--Joyce LeMaster visited with Terry Gibbs last week. Joyce LeMaster and Nicholas Blackburn visited with Jewell Young on Saturday. Dell Marie Harper treated Joyce LeMaster to a late birthday dinner on Friday. They had a wonderful time. Dell Marie Harper spent a few days in Louisville recently. She visited with friends there and some from Atlanta. Shelby Bolin visited Friday evening with Joyce LeMaster.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nickell have been Sandy McClure and Chris, Patty Ball, Archie Williams and Steve Gullett. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Nickell attended the viewing of Argus Smith at Herald and Stewart and Halsey Funeral Home Saturday. They attended the funeral of Lexie Adams at Potter Funeral Home on Sunday.

Junction News

By Kathy Bolin

Sept. 10--Greetings from the Junction.

Upper Sand Lick was swinging with bluegrass on Saturday. What a great time. Special singing was with Bluegrass Online, ha ha their stage was a hay wagon set up with speakers and microphones, sitting in the middle of a barn full of tobacco. Now that is country. Also heard a couple of starving artists, Clyde Jenkins and Larry Jenkins, performed for dinner.

Just kidding, they did a real fine job. Actually the cook-out was to celebrate Ollie, Clyde, Cortis, Emily Jenkins birthdays. End of the day was blessed to watch Bonnie Cantrell get on a piece of plywood and dance, and kick up them heels.

Labor day weekend Kristen Coffee, of Lower Sand Lick, and David Caesar Morehead exchanged their wedding vows at East Valley School. Kristen is the daughter of Billy and Tammy Coffee and granddaughter of Darrell and Ruthie Coffee. Kristen was beautiful and her theme was country with bridesmaids in cowboy boots and yellow sundresses. Sunflowers were her flowers and there was the traditional bubbles on the table, but a new item, beef jerky. Darrell Coffee was there and my, oh my, dressed to kill.

Was so sad to pick up last week's paper and read that Estelle Caskey had passed away. Enjoyed reading her articles and she was such a young looking woman. Never in a million years would have guessed she was 95 years old. She was an attractive, young at heart, person. Sympathy goes out to her family and friends.

Rejoicing at Red River

Romans 5:18--"Therefore, as through one man's offense judgment came to all men, resulting in condemnation, even so through one Man's righteous act the free gift came to all men, resulting in justification of life."

Isn't it wonderful that we have such a loving God that even though our paths were set by Adam as sinners, He gave us a way to overcome sin and promised that we would reap Heaven, if we only followed the path set by Jesus. Some people say a loving God would not send someone to hell. That's right! He does not send us there nor does He want us to go to hell. He gives us instruction on how to avoid hell and all its agony. THE BIBLE! Read it! Learn it! Live by it! Sometimes its hard--very hard! But He also gives us His shoulder to lean on in these tough times. Thank Him for His love and mercy!

RRCC is having their Annual Homecoming Service this Sunday, Sept. 16th. It starts at 10:00 a.m. and goes until we get tired. Fairhaven Quartet will be the special singers. It is also considered "Old Fashion Day". Hopefully, we will see some of the ladies in long dresses, aprons and bonnets and the men in overalls. If you don't have that, just come as you are. We will have a pot luck dinner in the fellowship hall. So please come and join us, and if you can, bring a dish. You are always welcome at RRCC and it doesn't have to be just Homecoming services. We want to see you every service!

Visit us at our web site redrivercommunitychurch.org.

CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING

Carbon monoxide poisoning is a silent, deadly killer claiming about 1,000 lives each year in the United States. Such common items as automotive exhaust, home heating systems and obstructed chimneys can produce the colorless, odorless gas.

The gas can also be produced by poorly vented generators, kerosene heaters, gas grills and other items used for cooking and heating when used improperly during the winter months.

1. NEVER run generators indoors. Open a window slightly when using a kerosene heater.
2. NEVER use charcoal to cook indoors.
3. NEVER use a gas oven

Appreciate What You Have

One day . . . a wealthy family man took his son on a trip to the country, so he could have his son see how poor country people live.

They stayed one day and one night in the home of a very humble farmer. At the end of the trip, and when they were back home, the father asked his son, "What did you think of the trip?"

The son replied, "Very nice dad."

Then the father asked his son, "Did you notice how poor they were?"

The son replied, "Yes."

The father continued asking, "What did you learn?"

The son responded, "I learned that we have one dog in our house, and they have four."

Also, we have a fountain in our garden, but they have a stream that has no end.

And we have imported lamps in our garden . . . where they have the stars!

And our garden goes to the edge of our property. But they have the entire horizon as their back yard!"

At the end of the son's reply the father was speechless.

His son then said, "Thank you dad for showing me how poor we really are."

Isn't it true that all depends on the lens you use to see life?

One can ask himself what would happen if we give thanks for what we have instead of always asking for more.

Learn to appreciate what you have. Wealth is all in one's point of view.

Broadway First Church Of God

John 7:24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. The old saying "You can't judge a book by it's cover" is so true. It is what is in the heart that counts for that is what God looks at.

For the message we read from John 3:16-21 with the key verse being For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved. Some may think that Christians think they are better than those that are unsaved but the truth of the matter is that we're not, we have just had the grace of God applied to our hearts (been saved). We were all sinners at one time and it is nothing that we have done to deserve salvation, we are saved by the mercy of God.

Jesus didn't come to condemn you but to save you. Condemn means to declare guilty or to inflict a penalty upon or to declare unfit for use. If we don't believe on Jesus Christ then we are condemn according to verse 18. By our words and what we believe we are either justified or condemned by what Matthew says in chapter 12, verse 37.

Sometimes people make wrong judgments just as the scribes and the chief priests did with Jesus. In Matthew 20:17-19 Jesus told his disciples how he would be betrayed and condemn to death. Jesus, the Son of God, who was without sin knew what it was like to carry the weight of death even though he was innocent. Imagine what he felt when he prayed in the garden "Not my will but Thine be done."

There were two malefactors which was crucified with Jesus and one said to Christ as they were hanging there If thou be Christ, save thyself and us. But the other rebuked him saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? For we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss. Then he said to Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom, and Jesus replied, Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise. You don't have to be condemned if you only believe in Jesus Christ.

We have seen what the tornado did and how many buildings were condemned. That is what the devil will do to you soul if you allow it. Jesus can take that condemnation away just as he did with the woman that was taken in adultery. When the scribes and Pharisees brought her to Jesus and ask if she should be stoned or what he would do with her; he stooped down and wrote something on the ground. After standing, he said, he that is without sin cast the first stone; then he wrote on the ground again. They were convicted by their own conscience and all left just leaving the woman with Jesus. Jesus the said to her , Woman where are thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She replied, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more. Jesus wants to save you from condemnation.

John 5:24 Verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life. We are all guilty of sin but Jesus will take that condemnation away. Romans 8:1-2 There is therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hat made me free from the law of sin and death. Praise the Lord, you can be a Christian and free from the guilt of sin. Come worship with us , we preach about things like this.

Suspects believed to be part of heroin pipeline

MOREHEAD, Ky. — Six persons arrested Sept. 6 by Rowan County sheriff's deputies at a residence in Clearfield are suspected to be members of a "drug pipeline" bringing heroin into Rowan County.

Sheriff's deputies, aided Morehead State University and the Kentucky State Police, arrested four Rowan County residents at their apartment at 50 Rose Road in Clearfield on charges of trafficking and possession of heroin. Also arrested at the apartment were two Detroit residents who were allegedly bringing heroin into the area.

They also were charged with trafficking in the drug.

In addition to a quantity of heroin, some which had been repackaged for sale, officers confiscated a quantity of Xanax and oxycodone pills along with more than $1,000 in cash.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Joe Cline told the Morehead News officers had suspected for several months that heroin could be moving into the area and said, "We now are shifting our focus to the northern drug pipeline in our effort to fight illegal drugs in Rowan County.

Cline said that dealers are charging $40 for a packet containing one-tenth gram of cut heroin and that oxycodone prices have reached a street price of $45 to $50 per pill.

Arrested were Tammy Bailey, 39, Jerry Brown, 41, Samantha Dunn, 18, and Justin Schrader, 27, all of Clearfield, and Calvin Stevens, 37, and Eric Stewart, 34, of Detroit, Mich.

LAY IT DOWN

I'm going to lay it down and leave it, I'm going to lay it down, believing. I'll carry these burdens no more. For the same man that lifted the burden of sin will lead me on through Heaven's door.
